

Sanax

stands out from the crowd

While there are a number of electronic muscle stimulators on the market which specialise in either toning, lymphatic drainage or wrinkle diminishment and rejuvenation, SANAX is the only system offering all this and more in the one unit.

With SANAX you combine holistic health care practices with the most advanced and efficient in modern medicine. The SANAX system can be used for superficial damage in topical areas, for the stimulation of the deeper cellular and musculature structures, and also for the repair and restoration of the body's basic elements and energy meridians:

- muscle toning and relaxation
- facial exercise and toning
- improving circulation
- treatment of localised skin conditions
- skin blemishes and problems
- dry, flaky or oily skin
- refining skin texture, cleansing and closing open pores etc
- soothing sensitive skin
- scarring reduction
- reducing fine lines
- skin rejuvenation (non-surgical face and neck lifting)
- lymphatic and deep tissue drainage (encouraging the elimination of waste while promoting relaxation)
- skin cleansing to the deepest level (elimination of blackheads)
- Electro Acupuncture
- Pressure Point massage
- Reflexology massage
- deep and soft tissue massage
- cellulite elimination
- body contouring and firming
- stress management and relaxation
- releasing muscle tension

the original and the best

SANAX offers a variety of differing electronic pulses and speeds as per the biological scale for addressing different needs. SANAX works with the body, stimulating and speeding up the body's own natural healing processes. The new SANAX Bio-energetics rejuvenation therapy is genuinely holistic, unlike many mainstream non-surgical beauty works which leave the skin and muscles superficially taut for a short time. SANAX uplifts the individual's natural vitality from the deepest level and, at the same time, helps to mediate the energy balance of the mind and body.

demanded by doctors

The SANAX System was designed in Germany in response to Doctors' demands for a solution to the increased stress and pollution levels in the modern body.

The result of years of research, the SANAX system was developed to eliminate blockages and waste products from the body and assist in the regeneration and restoration of the whole physical structure.

It is through its extensive use by medical, beauty and natural therapy practitioners worldwide and SANAX's ongoing commitment to research and development, that the multi-faceted nature of the system has been discovered, tested and improved.
